

Wednesday, April 14th and Thursday, April 15th, 2010
Kalahari Resort - Wisconsin Dells

Wisconsin Title & Conference - Nurture the Future

www.wt1a.com Our exhibitors put much effort into our conferences so please consider visiting them as one of your sectional choices.

WEDNESDAY, April 14, 2010

Exhibits – C/D Convention Center 7:30 – 8:45

Registration from 7:30-8:30 South Atrium

C/D Convention Center - Continental Breakfast

8:45 – 12:00

Keynote – Spence Rogers

Teaching for Excellence: The Future of Education

Sectionals:

1:00-2:15 and repeated 2:45-4:00

Spence Rogers	Explore classroom methods that increase student motivation, engagement, and learning. Examine powerful strategies and techniques for increasing the effectiveness of teaching to help more kids succeed in school.
Mary Richards	The Missing Piece – Explore manipulatives and algorithms along with math language and how important it is to put them together.
Kathy Heineck	Making Books : How to make home-made books with your students. This is a hands-on workshop.
Maureen Bagg	1:00 - PreK-5th grade –Implementing quality writing instruction by focusing on modeling your own thinking as you write - not just assigning writing. Attendees will engage in a variety of lessons with an elementary focus. 2:45 – Gr. 6-12
CCBC	Best Books for Kids
Exhibitors 4:00-5:00	C/D Convention Center - Remember Exhibitors are here today ONLY!

THURSDAY, April 15, 2010

Full Breakfast Buffet and WT1A Meeting – 7:30 – E/F Convention Center

9:00 – 12:00	Keynote –Greg Tang The Art of Smart
1:00-2:00 Sectionals	Greg Tang Making Math Meaningful. All things are possible once you free your inner smarts. There's no math gene, but if you think you're bad in math, you are! Come see how easy math – and everything else for that matter – can be!
	Nick Hanford Kurzweil Strategies. Participants will explore the reading, writing, study skills, and scanning features of all products and learn how to apply them in the classroom to effectively support their struggling students.
	Yvette Dobbs Parents Plus.